

N19 Funktion-One Dance Stacks in Beijing's Mix club

MIX N MATCH

CHINA: Mix is one of the most popular clubs in Beijing, playing hip hop music over an excellent sound system to a fantastic lighting system. Serving singles and couples, Mix lives up to its name as an established meeting ground for the city's affluent young. A recent expansion has seen the club open a third 'zone' that, alone, is large enough to compare with Beijing's biggest clubs.

Work on the basement development began in early 2007 and was concluded on Christmas Eve, and includes a new DJ station and karaoke rooms.

The sound system was designed and installed by Liu Zhi Chong of Beijing Chi Peng Jia Ying Engineering Co, whose brief was to provide a sound system with a high power output and excellent sound quality that would also fit well with the style of the club. After consideration, he chose Funktion-One. The main loudspeaker system is an F1 Dance stack comprising two DS210 and two DS15 boxes, and four F218 and two F221 subwoofers. In addition there are four Resolution 2 boxes, 12 Resolution 1 boxes, two F221s four Minibass 212s and six F81s. In one of the karaoke rooms, there is a further pair of Resolution 1s, with the remaining rooms fitted with a total of 12 F88s.

In the main zone are square bar tables with the two Dance Stacks flanking the DJ booth. Opposite the DJ position are a pair of R2 full-range loudspeakers and one F221 woofer that provides additional coverage for the floor. In the quiet zone are six Resolution 1 and four Minibass 212 boxes.

The club's owners have reported that the sound is loud and clear.
