Set offers patrons the intimacy of a lounge with the energy of a club. Its decor combines Old World textures with Space Age flourishes, while the sound system provides audiophile detail at full dancefloor volume (and speaking of dancefloors, there isn't one). Despite (or because of) these seeming contradictions, Set has become all things to all the right people. The venue has managed to defy conventional clubland wisdom and flourish on Lincoln Road. The clientele is upscale, but not uptight, and the musical format is flexible enough to accommodate almost any taste.
